

Pikaia Lodge

Where: Galapagos Islands, Ecuador

The Experience: Green with love, not with envy.

What's to love: The Galapagos are treasured for their delicate ecosystems and diverse flora and fauna. This new — and very lovely — carbon-neutral boutique hotel is determined to keep it that way through solar panels, wind generators, innovative architecture, and respectful expeditions. That mean you and your ecobunny can trail tortoises, saunter with sea lions, and birdwatch like Darwin without indirectly endangering the local habitat.

Photo: Courtesy of Pikaia Lodge

