

Live stream: Sen. Jeff Flake, member of Senate Judiciary Committee, speaks on Kavanaugh hearing

Read Story

CLICAQUI

VACACIONES A ORLANDO

6 Días de Alojamiento + 4 Tickets a tu Parque Favorito

Luxury hotels that you should add to your bucket list

Ramsey Qubein, Special to USA TODAY

Published 7:30 a.m. ET May 8, 2018 | Updated 4:20 p.m. ET May 8, 2018

Fullscreen

Views of the world's most luxurious hotels

Located over two extinct volcanic craters, the luxurious and sustainable 14-room Pikaia Lodge in the Galapagos Islands is surrounded by a wild giant tortoise reserve and private beaches. It also provides access to a luxury yacht with several bedrooms and a whirlpool. Four-night packages at the lodge start at $6,000. Pikaia

RATES STARTING AT $119

Start planning your Southwest vacation in the extraordinarily beautiful Sedona, Arizona.

Book Your Trip

(Photo: Four Seasons)

CONNECT

TWEET

LINKEDIN

COMMENT

EMAIL

MORE

Bucket list hotels gain fame through social media, glossy magazine spreads and dreamy movie scenes. We rounded up some of the most famous hotels that deserve far more than five-star status to pique your travel taste buds for summer.

From a $25,000 Parisian view to a hotel that's literally out of this world (and will cost you $9.5 million for a twelve day stay), these hotels are the height of luxury, and not for the faint of heart. So start pinching those pennies now, because it's going to take 905,000,000 of them for a stay in Aurora Station in space.